1 withdrawal of O'Conner as attorney of record for Debtor.

3 I. Under The Facts Of This Case, O'Conner Is Allowed To Withdraw.

5 Whether to permit counsel to withdraw is a matter of discretion with the trial court.
6 United States v. Carter, 560 F.3d 1107, 1113 (9th Cir. 2009). State and national rules of
7 professional responsibility also apply, provided that they do not conflict with the Bankruptcy
8 Code and Rules. See generally In re AFI Holding, Inc. 355 B.R. 139, 153 at n. 15, 47
9 Bankr.Ct.Dec. 92, Bankr. L. Rep. P 97,104, 06 Cal. Daily Op. Serv. 10,575, 2006 Daily
10 Journal D.A.R. 15,028. 9th Cir.BAP (Cal.), 2006. California federal district courts have 11 applied the California Rules of Professional Conduct to analyze such situations as here, i.e.
12 to determine whether a proposed withdrawal is proper. E.g., Cal. Native Plant Soc 'y v. U.S.
13 E.P.A., 2008 WL 4911162, *1 (N.D.Cal. Nov. 14, 2008); Elan Transdermal Ltd. v. Cygnus
14 Therapeutic Systems, 809 F.Supp. 1383, 1387 (N.D.Cal.1992).
15
16
17
18

19 Washington's Rule of Professional Conduct Rule 1.16(b) holds as follows:

20 (b) Except as stated in paragraph (c), a lawyer may withdraw from 21 representing a client if:

22 (1) withdrawal can be accomplished without material adverse
23 effect on the interests of the client;...

24 (4) the client insists upon taking action that the lawyer considers 25 repugnant or with which the lawyer has a fundamental
26 disagreement;

27 (5) the client fails substantially to fulfill an obligation to the lawyer
28 regarding the lawyer's services and has been given reasonable warning that the lawyer will withdraw unless the obligation is fulfilled;

- 1 (6) the representation will result in an unreasonable financial
2 burden on the lawyer or has been rendered unreasonably difficult
3 by the client; or
4 (7) other good cause for withdrawal exists.

5 Several of the above subsections of 1.16(b) apply in this instance.

6 To begin with, Debtor has obtained new counsel to assist him, a well-known
7 bankruptcy practitioner Jeffrey Wells. Mr. Wells filed his first pleading on behalf of the 8 Debtor on May 19, 2011 (See docket entry no. 165). Accordingly, Debtor will not be
9 adversely prejudiced by an Order of this Court allowing O'Conner to withdraw and this
10 withdrawal is permissible under RPC 1.16(b)(1).

11 O'Conner and Debtor have materially and fundamentally disagreed over what is the 12 correct course of conduct on at least two significant issues. Accordingly, the Court should 13 allow O'Conner to withdraw under RPC 1.16(b)(4).

14 Debtor has failed to pay his expenses for representation in his bankruptcy proceeding
15 for services rendered post-conversion (from chapter 11 to chapter 7). Debtor currently owes 16 $14,066.50 to O'Conner for post-conversion services related to Debtor's schedules and 17 Statement of Financial Affairs and as O'Conner is a sole-proprietorship, this amount is both
18 large and significant. Accordingly, the Court should allow O'Conner to withdraw under RPC
19 1.16(b)(5&6).

20 As a final justification for withdrawal related to the RPCs, Debtor and O'Conner on at 21 least three occasions spent over two hours (each for a total of around 6 hours) discussing the 22 definition of one word. Accordingly, the Court should allow O'Conner to withdraw under 23 RPC 1.16(b)(7).

24 Numerous cases have held that a breakdown in the attorney-client relationship is

1 grounds for permitting counsel to withdraw. See, e.g., S.E.C. v. Souza, 2010 WL 2231822,
2 at *1 (E.D.Cal. Jun.10, 2010); Moss Landing Comm. Park LLC v. Kaiser Aluminum Corp.,
3 2009 WL 764873, at *1–2 (N.D.Cal. 2009). See also In re Tescione, Slip Copy, 2010 WL
4 5375967 (Bkrtcy.D.Ariz., 2010).

5 O’Conner maintains that a breakdown in the attorney-client relationship between
6 Debtor and O’Conner has occurred in this instance.

9 ii. Funds Received On Behalf Of Debtor.
10

11 O’Conner currently has $11,500.00 funds held in a trust account under Debtor’s name.

12 However, it is not clear to O’Conner, now, to whom the funds belong.

13 It is correct, as the Chapter 7 Trustee’s Counsel, Ms. Moewes, stated in her Objection
14 to O’Conner’s Withdrawal, that, at the 341 hearing held on April 22, 2011, that O’Conner
15 stated that he had no objection to turning over the funds to the Chapter 7 trustee.
16

17 However, at the second 341 hearing on April 29, 2011, at which Ms. Moewes was not
18 in attendance, Debtor stated to the Chapter 7 Trustee through his counsel (O’Conner) that the 19 two payments were paid to O’Conner to be used for O’Conner’s legal fees and that the two 20 persons who provided the funds wanted them back if they were not to be applied to 21 O’Conner’s legal fees. O’Conner at that time stated to the Chapter 7 Trustee that he 22 (O’Conner) was not sure to whom the funds belonged.
23

24 Further, the amounts of the two cashier’s checks referred to by Ms. Moewes are 25 incorrect. There are only two cashier’s check and they are both attached to her declaration.
26 (See docket no. 169). Those are the only two cashier’s checks and those add up to the 27
28

1 $11,500.00 held in trust. There is no and never has been any one cashier's check for
2 $11,500.00 as claimed in the Chapter 7 Trustee's Objection (see Trustee's Objection, page 2,
3 lines 4-5).

4 Finally, the Trustee's statement is not correct that O'Conner disclosed the two
5 cashier's checks for the first time at the 341 hearing on April 22, 2011. (See Objection of
6 Chapter 7 Trustee, page 1, lines 27-28). O'Conner disclosed in open court (Judge Steiner's
7 Court) the $6,000 cashier's check (the only one in existence at that time) at the conclusion of
8 the hearing to appoint a Chapter 7 Trustee on November 12, 2010. O'Conner further
9 disclosed the existence of both of the cashier's checks directly to both the Chapter 7 Trustee
10 and Ms. Moewes outside of the Judge Steiner's Courtroom immediately after the hearing on 11 the Ron Brown's Motion to convert Chapter 11 case to Chapter 7 heard on March 11, 2011.
12

14
15 Therefore, O'Conner having answered and addressed each of the Objections raised by 16 the Trustee in his Objection, and,
17

19 WHEREFORE, based on the facts, statutes, and case law set forth hereinabove, the
20 Court should grant O'Conner's Motion for an order permitting the withdrawal of O'Conner
21 as attorney of record for Debtor.
